Recommendation for a Reduced Course Load Due to a Disability

STUDENT NAME: ________________________________  ID NUMBER: ____________

F-1 students must enroll full-time during Fall and Spring semesters according to immigration regulations. “Full-time” is generally defined as 12 credits for undergraduate students and 6 credits for graduate students.

A student may be authorized to enroll in fewer credits if they would be unable to enroll and succeed in a full course of study due to a disability.

Attention Access Consultant:

Use this form to indicate your recommendation that this student enroll in a reduced course load; you do not need to include details about the student’s disability.

The University of Minnesota’s Disability Resource Center is tasked with determining reasonable accommodations. The Disability Resource Center has documentation of a disability for the above named student. Based on my review of the student’s documentation and circumstances, I have determined that a reduced credit load is a reasonable accommodation and recommend that the student

- _____ enroll in a reduced course load for __________________________ Semester and Year

- _____ enroll in a reduced course load for the duration of their degree program
